

Commercial & Industrial Financing

Energy Project Assessment Districts (EPAD): EPADs can help promote economic development by helping businesses manage their energy costs and meet sustainability goals by providing low cost financing for energy projects. Several communities have already passed EPAD ordinances (as of October 2016): Bowling Green, Covington, Bellevue, Greensburg, Greenville, Owensboro, Lexington and Louisville.

Industrial Revenue Bonds (IRBs): Provides capital specifically for industrial improvement projects, with a set-aside specifically for energy efficiency project. IRBs are municipal debt securities issued by a government agency on behalf of a private sector company and intended to build or acquire factories or other heavy equipment and tools.
